

The Sphere of Our Purpose

Your Purpose lies hidden deep within your DNA. When you trust in your highest dreams and have the courage to manifest them through your Life's Work, then your Purpose begins to nourish you from deep within your being. When you ignite the Gift of this Gene Key then you activate the forces of synchronicity and grace in your outer life.

Your Purpose is laid out for you already, and all you have to do is unlock it.

This Gene Key placement unlocks when you begin to trust your highest dreams and use the gift of your Life's Work in service to the world.

When looking at your Hologenetic profile, your Purpose is the sphere on the bottom (the 6:00 position).

The first two spheres in the activation sequence, your Life's Work and your Evolution, are external, whereas the Radiance and Purpose are internal.

It corresponds to and is the same information that is found in the Sun placement on the Design or unconscious placement in the Human Design chart. ☺

Purpose is not about what we are here to do, it's about the quality of our consciousness. When you begin to contemplate the gene key that relates to your purpose, think about it as the aroma of your deepest inner essence. Your true purpose lies beyond your conscious reach and lies hidden in your DNA.

When we reach deep down inside of ourselves, we always arrive at the question of purpose. One of the extraordinary traits of humans is to ask this question, What is my purpose?

The Gene Keys speak of Higher Purpose as opposed to just Purpose.

When we contemplate the question of our Purpose, we often think of it in terms of what we are here to do. Doing, however, is only the byproduct of our being.

Here, at the foot of the pathway of core stability, and at the root of the activation sequence itself, lies the potential answer to our oldest question.

Your Purpose is designed to be unlocked by life.

It calls upon you to evolve through your challenges, and it emerges progressively over the course of your life as you move through breakthrough and transformation. Your purpose has another unique quality, it represents the essence of your humanity, of your beautiful ordinariness and your love of being alive inside of the physical body on the physical plane.

Your purpose has already been laid out for you. You simply need to trust yourself to unlock it. Remember it is not about doing, it's about being.

Your purpose is expressed simply by being YOU. You don't need to chase achievements or accolades to live your purpose; it's activated by simply living your most authentic life. Your prime gifts (the 4 in your Activation Sequence) can be your greatest service to the world.

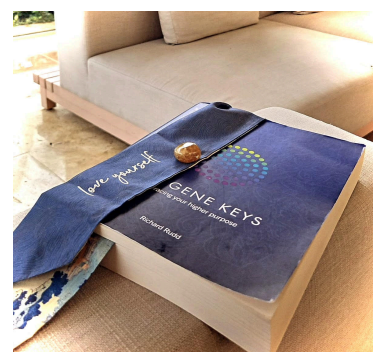

Embracing the shadow frequencies of your Gene Key allows you to acknowledge and move through some of the lower frequencies and patterns that keep us feeling stuck. Aligning your energy with the highest frequencies of your keys allows you to flow with life and embody your truth.

Once you have located your Purpose Sphere in your Hologenetic Profile you will feel the inner pull to explore more about the specific insights the Gene Key can provide for you, ultimately activating your inner lightbody; radiating from within.

Your relationship to your own Gene Keys is a deeply personal one. It is not a process to be rushed.

Honour your individual process and know that clarity will come over time.

Provided below are a few supportive tools which you may reference during your personal exploration to guide you through your process And explore the full spectrum of your gene key in this sphere.

Contemplation and Prompts

Contemplation in the Gene Keys is slightly different from what one might traditionally think of with traditional journaling, it is a living inquiry.

This is a slow revelation which unfolds in real time, sometimes in the most basic of daily tasks. The contemplation of your purpose will take revisiting as you continue to experience life. It is often beneficial to approach each key in digestible pieces; reading a section then contemplating what it may mean within the framework of your life.

Shadow.

The shadow is not something to reject, but to witness and integrate. As you approach this Shadow do so with curiosity and compassion.

As you contemplate and reflect, remember that your shadow holds the seed to your greatest gift.

- How has this shadow shown up as a reoccurring theme in my life?
- Do I ever feel a sense of core instability? If so, where might that come from?

Gift

Once the shadow has been lovingly observed and embraced, the gift has the potential to be expressed. We do this through presence and exploration.

- Where do I see the attributes of the gift in my life?
- How do I serve others simply by embodying my gift, my natural energy and essence?
- When I authentically express the gift, how does my life flow differently?

Siddhi

Through deep presence and surrender, we may experience the Siddhi; a state of grace and being.

Please resist the need to force answers, these attributes here are seeds for contemplation. This frequency cannot be forced open, it must unfurl naturally.

- What would it feel like to completely surrender into life through my body without resistance?

- If my body were a sacred temple of divine purpose how would I treat it, speak to it and listen to it
- What if I already AMthe purpose I am seeking?
